DEDICATION

Because of his kindness and loyalty during this year that he has been with us, we, the graduating class of '46, feel that we have found a real friend. So in this small way we would like to show our appreciation by dedicating our year book, THE CADUCEUS to MR. W. R. PETERS.

The Pledge

"I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatsoever is deleterious and mischevius, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to elevate the standards of my profession, and I will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping, and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care."

A NURSE'S PRAYER

*When all my guests are put to bed
And down the halls I quietly tread,
I pray to God that each may keep
A restful, healthful, healing sleep
Where pain and worry and fear are gone
And a tomorrow of health for them shall dawn.
God grant that they, my guests
Will have your blessings while at rest.*

Foreword

May the friendships that we have formed throughout these years be prolonged and our love and loyalty to the HIGH POINT MEMORIAL HOSPITAL never be forgotten.

The HISTORY OF THE HIGH

In 1900 High Point was a rapidly progressing city with a population of about 7,000. Due to the epidemic of typhoid fever at that time there was obvious need for a hospital to care for the sick. The Junior Order, composed of many of the town's leading citizens, conceived the idea of purchasing a place and establishing a hospital to serve the community.

In 1904 a committee from the Junior Order, headed by Mr. Joe Sechrest, was appointed to look into the possibilities, and it was decided to purchase the property where the Burrus Memorial Hospital now stands. The frame house on it was renovated and Miss Josephine Coleman, R. N., who had been graduated from the St. Andrews Home, in Lynchburg, Va., was put in charge as first superintendent.

The Junior Order underwent all the financial obligations of the little hospital from 1904 to 1911. At this time financial conditions became such that it was decided that the best interests of the community would be served if the hospital was controlled by the doctors who used it. Dr. J. T. Burrus and Dr. Guy F. Duncan agreed to take an option on the place and shoulder its financial obligations amounting, at this time, to $2,500.00, and pay the Junior Order for its equity in the property — on May 12, 1912. These two men agreed to the terms and bought the institution which they called the High Point Hospital.

At that time Mrs. Josephine McCraney, R. N., was made superintendent, a position which she held until 1918. Mrs. McCraney, Dr. D. A. Stanton and Dr. C. E. Reitzel each bought shares of stock in the new organization and the hospital was incorporated.

Shortly after this arrangement was made, the right wing and the men's ward were built. The entire building was brick veneered. The back wing was added in 1913 to give additional working space, and in 1914 the left wing, including the operating room, was built.

In 1914, too, the nursing personnel was moved from the upstairs rooms of the hospital to a house across the street. In 1919 they were moved back to the second and third floors of the back wing of the hospital, where they lived until 1922 when the present nurses' home on Howell Street was built.

In 1916, Dr. Duncan, due to impaired health stopped practicing, and Dr. H. W. McCain bought his stock in the hospital. In 1919, upon his return from the armed service, Dr. Burrus bought all the stock in the High Point Hospital except that owned by Dr. McCain. The two men continued to own and operate the hospital jointly until Dr. McCain's untimely death in October, 1922. After Dr. McCain's death, Dr. Burrus bought his stock in the organization and became sole owner of the hospital.

In 1918, Miss Gilbert Muse, a graduate of the hospital who had been serving as operating room supervisor, succeeded Mrs. McCraney as superintendent.

In 1922, Dr. H. L. Brockmann came to High Point to take over some of Dr. McCain's work and to establish a laboratory in connection with the institution. Miss Lillie Pearl Wood, of Randleman, a graduate of the High Point Hospital Nursing School, became the first laboratory technician.

The present operating room, with patients' rooms, a nursery and a small diet kitchen above it, was added in 1927.

At this time, Miss Hazel Johnson, who had trained herself for the purpose, became part-time instructor of nurses. She and the staff doctors, who participate in the training of the student nurses, planned a comprehensive program for nursing education. The school has consistently met all the requirements of the North Carolina Standardization Board of Nurses' Training Schools and of the American Hospital Association.

The hospital personnel has grown as well as the student nursing group. The equipment and buildings of the hospital have been kept up to date by repair and replacement, including an entirely new X-Ray installation throughout. The back wing of the hospital was extended to include a modern kitchen, diet kitchen facilities and additional patients' rooms.

In 1933 the hospital was converted from a private institution to one of community auspices to be operated by a self-perpetuating board of trustees. The financial transaction involved Dr. Burrus contributing two-thirds of the property valuation and the hospital section of the

POINT MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Duke Endowment contributed one-third. Because of Dr. Burrus' generosity and his untiring efforts in building up the institution, it was suggested that he be signally honored by giving the hospital its name. Thus the name of the hospital was changed to and incorporated as THE BURRUS MEMORIAL HOSPITAL, INC. Dr. Burrus remained as chief of staff.

The incorporators and the first board of trustees were as follows: Chairman, Rev. H. N. Bowne; Vice Chairman, Dr. O. B. Bonner; Secretary-Treasurer, Dr. H. L. Brockmann; Dr. John T. Burrus, Carter Dalton, E. W. Freeze, R. O. Lindsay, A. S. Parker, Fred A. Thomas and Frank Wineskie.

Dr. Burrus' death, on June 6, 1936, was a great loss to this whole section and most particularly to that group of men and women who had worked by his side through the years to build up an institution dedicated to community service and professional integrity.

Dr. H. L. Brockmann succeeded Dr. Burrus as chief of staff in 1936, and served in that capacity until the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees in 1942. At that time Dr. E. A. Sumner was made chief of staff and Dr. S. S. Saunders assistant chief of staff.

On April 1, 1942, Mrs. McCaskill (Miss Gilbert Muse) who had endeared herself during thirty years of faithful, efficient and consecrated service to the hospital and community, was succeeded by Mr. J. P. Richardson, who was given the title of Administrator of the Hospital. He, in turn, secured the services of Miss Evelyn M. Heath to serve as superintendent of nurses.

Mr. Richardson was formerly field representative for the Hospital Section of the Duke Endowment and Miss Heath was superintendent of Columbus County Hospital, Whiteville, N. C.

Nineteen hundred and forty-three brought several fundamental changes to the hospital.

In July, Miss Heath resigned to accept other work and was succeeded by Mrs. E. Irby Long as superintendent of nurses.

The section of the hospital known as "Green Hall" was set up as an obstetrical department. An affiliation in Pediatrics with Children's Hospital, Washington, D. C., was arranged. The accomplishment of these two steps did much to improve the standards of the training school and improve service.

During this war year, the federal government realized that something had to be done to stimulate recruitment of student nurses. As a result, the United States Cadet Nurse Corps was created to be governed by the United States Public Health Service. The hospital made application to participate, was accepted, and out of the forty-five students now enrolled in the training school, forty are members of the corps.

In 1943 the trustees put on a limited campaign to raise funds for a new hospital. By the close of the year they were successful in depositing $100,000.00 in this fund.

Nineteen hundred and forty-three also saw the consolidation of all hospital facilities in High Point under one government. This was done because the trustees realized that concerted effort and support would be required to successfully undertake the responsibility of providing a new hospital for the city. Mr. Richardson was named director of the combined hospital and Mr. W. R. Peters was named business manager.

At the annual meeting of the trustees in January, 1944, Dr. E. A. Sumner was re-elected chief of staff and Dr. W. L. Jackson was elected assistant chief of staff.

In June, 1944, Mr. W. R. Peters was named director of the hospital succeeding Mr. J. P. Richardson, who is now with the Presbyterian Hospital in Charlotte.

The campaign fund for a new hospital is going forward nicely and in the near future there will be a new hospital.

The school of nursing has increased the enrollment to fifty-one students, with two exceptions, all are cadets.

This necessitated a new class room, so in November, 1944, the new class room building was officially opened. This consists of class room, demonstration room, and diet laboratory.

At the annual meeting of the trustees in December, 1945, Dr. J. T. Mann was elected chief of staff, and Dr. J. E. Slate, associate chief of staff.

HIGH POINT MEMORIAL ALWAYS

We'll remember you, always,
Dear High Point Memorial, always.
All for what you stand, and for all the plans
That make our school so grand, always
Some day . . .
Things may not seem fair, always.
We fuss and fume around, some days.
But with help from you, every day and.
We'll be thanking you, always.
Teachings that we learn, some days
Will be lingering on, always.
Though they may seem few, still they'll see us through,
'Till we reach our goal, one day
Some day . . .
Girls will take our place it's true
Great knowledge they'll receive, from you.
When their days seem dark, may we lend a spark
Straight from every heart, always.
We'll be wandering back, some day,
To review the progress you've made.
So good luck to you, and to all we knew
Who'll love you as we do, always
Always . . .
Time may bring about new things.
But the Spirit remains, it's true.
So good-bye to you, thanks and we'll be true
To the cause and you for always.

Last Will and Testament

We, the graduating class of '46, the minority being of sane mentality, on this the first day of June, in the year 1946, do declare this writing to be our last will and testament, hereby making null and void all other writings made by us; do hereby will and bequeath all property, real and personal, to be bestowed as follows:

To Wit:

1. Mary Ruth Lassiter, Nancy Slate and Olene Reynolds will their seats in the library to any of the girls who want to break rules.
2. Estelle Hauser leaves her ability to always have the last word in an argument to Gladys Lewis, hoping she'll take advantage of this.
3. Voncile Minnis gladly wills the Coca-Cola machine keys to any dope willing to volunteer.
4. Ruby Pegram leaves her love for uniforms to Sybil Cook.
5. Edith Candler would love to leave the jinx of getting into jams to most anyone.
6. Mary Ruth Lassiter wills her devotion to Asheboro to Mary Check.
7. Zelle Lowder leaves her passion for oysters to Margie Myers.
8. Thelma Dellinger wills her acrobatics to Peggy Seism.
9. Louise Roberts Huffman wills her results from massaging to Vivian Russell.
10. Iris Hiatt wills her courting every minute off duty to Anne Beck.
11. Bonnie Minnis leaves her bottle of pills to Miller's medicine cabinet.
12. Gladys Shepherd leaves her so-called "dignity" to Carolyn Frye.
13. Aleise McNeill leaves her mild awakening alarm clock to the Freshman class. Maybe they'll be on time.
14. Zelle Lowder and Bertha Hill Kopczynski leave their swinettes to be used for Christmas celebrations.
15. Madge Hayworth leaves her drawings of the doctors to be hung in the library after she leaves.
16. Olene Reynolds wills her hula dancing to Frances Miller.
17. Hazel Cashatt wills her fascination for ambulance drivers to Helen Stine.
18. Nancy Slate wills her love for the navy to Rebecca Dick.

Class History

On September 1, 1943, thirteen young ladies, most of us just out of high school, started on a three years' journey. As usual, the girls who had already passed through that first critical period, painted us a picture of hard work, long hours and bitter disappointments which we were soon to encounter. In the next few days we learned something about this, as we started classes and tried to acclimatize ourselves to an entirely new routine.

A couple of weeks later Louise Roberts and Thelma Dellinger were sent home to grow up because they weren't quite old enough to meet state requirements. The rest of us drifted along wondering if we would be allowed to stay when our probation period was completed. After about two months Phyllis Holcomb decided nursing wasn't for her and left us.

And at last that long awaited time had come and our names were called one by one: Edith Candler, Bertha Hill, Estelle Hauser, Mary Ruth Lassiter, Voncile Minnis, Olene Reynolds, Ruby Pegram, Alcise McNeill and Nancy Slate. As we came forward our caps were placed upon our heads.

The next week was Christmas and we were allowed to go home for a week. Vacation over, we started anew, more determined than ever, to strive hard to some day reach our goal, a Registered Nurse.

In February, eight more prospective students entered the fold, which made two classes of freshmen, instead of the usual one. They were ushered in, with eager faces and much enthusiasm. Having only five months' experience, we did not feel much superior, so when their four months were passed and they were capped we were considered as one class. The newly capped girls scampered off for a two weeks' vacation. On their return they were considered full fledged students, namely: Thelma Dellinger, Hazel Cashatt, Iris Hiatt, Louise Roberts, Gladys Shepherd, Madge Hayworth, Zelle Lowder and Elizabeth Cheek.

Before we knew it we were beginning our junior year and for the first time had our classes all together. We were beginning new experiences such as night duty, operating room, and other things that before we had only dreamed of. One of the highlights of our junior year was our affiliation of three months in pediatrics at Children's Hospital, Washington, D. C. We enjoyed this change and felt that we had profited by it, but were glad to be back when we were finished.

Then, we became seniors and were very proud of our black bands, but we soon learned that they meant one-half inch more responsibility instead of one-half inch of beauty added to our caps.

About this time Mrs. Hawkins was added to our staff as Educational Director. We found her very helpful in helping us solve our problems.

We were very sorry to have our superintendent of nurses, Mrs. Irby Long leave us, but have again found an understanding friend in Mrs. Hawkins, who is acting as superintendent.

We are now looking forward to graduation and the wearing of a white uniform. We realize that we have not yet reached our goal but feel that our efforts have not been in vain.

SENIOR CLASS YEARBOOK

February, 1946.

Dear Fellow Students:

May we thank each of you hospital associates for the splendid cooperation shown in the editing of our 1945-46 Caduceus.

We are all, in turn, thankful to the business and professional firms who have made our book possible. They have proven their interest in the High Point Memorial Hospital. A salute to them!
